However, as always, work smarter, not harder. I recently obtained outlines from past years for each of my courses, and have used those to get a broad sense of my courses, and to help guide my own outline. I also use Barbri study guides, as they give a no-nonsense breakdown of black-letter law. Barbri outlines saved my life during criminal law . . .

I came to BARBRI after I had taken a bar review course from Themis. While they did have outlines, essays, and practice MBE questions as advertised, they did not match the quality and end detail of BARBRI's study material. BARBRI's advantage comes from the years of experience that goes into crafting a comprehensive curriculum.

Keep in mind that after the first month of Barbri (and I imagine the other prep courses) - if you're following along with their assignments - you'll be around the 800 mark without any extra work. I was a B/B+ student at a Tier 2 law school, no law review, rarely outlined, and retained little to nothing from my law school classes.
